◆ ◆ Full Stack Web Developer

As a Full Stack Web Developer, I have a wealth of experience in building and maintaining web applications. I am an analytical and creative individual who is constantly motivated to learn and grow. My previous career, as Marketing and Strategic Manager, has provided valuable skills and experience that continue to enhance my abilities as a web developer. I am excited to continue this chapter of my professional journey and look forward to the challenges and rewards that come with being a web developer.
